

Brittany Williams

Brittany, now 42, has been incarcerated since the age of 19, serving a LWOP sentence. Housed at SCI Muncy, she has dedicated her time to making the changes necessary to evolve into the woman she is today.

Recognizing that her past actions have negatively impacted the lives of many, she was determined to make amends by becoming a better version of herself. Brittany has become a positive influence in her community, where she mentors, peer-assists as a Certified Peer and Recovery Specialist, is an active member of the church, a college student, and a workout instructor.

Her passion is giving back to her community by showcasing that change is possible when you are willing to take responsibility for your actions, put in the hard work, lead by example, and, most importantly, never give up on yourself.
